1. Miguel Miranda, President of the National Economic Council, recently sold a metallurgical plant, located in Berazategui, F.C.S., to a group of Spaniards in Argentina.
2. The plant, of which Miranda was the principal stockholder, was sold for two million pesos. Among the purchasers were Jose Maria Areilza, Spanish Ambassador in Argentina, and Isidoro Lopez de Haro (the Marques de Chinchilla), Spanish Air Attache and an intimate friend of the Perons.
3. Ramon Arrue, Spanish industrialist from Bilbao, will be in charge of production in the plant, which will specialize in sheet metals. Some technicians have already arrived from Bilbao for employment in the plant.
